9th Annual Aging Matters Education & Expo

Keynote Speaker

Raymond A. Jetson is AARP's 2022 Purpose Prize winner for his discourse on the intersection of race and age.

The founder of Aging While Black is a national leader centering and amplifying Black people's perspectives and experiences as they age. Jetson creates programs for collective learning, and works to address systemic inequities faced by Black older adults. A stellar career in community building and healing, Jetson is a former Louisiana state representative, deputy secretary for the Louisiana Department of Health and Hospitals, and pastor of the Star Hill Baptist Church for 23 years.
